

Why Miller Canfield

Miller Canfield is as global as the multi-million-dollar international business deals that are handled by lawyers in our U.S., Canada and Poland offices and as local as our representation of entrepreneurial businesses, nonprofits, school districts, hospitals, libraries, governments or individual clients.

We celebrated our firm's 150th anniversary in 2002, but the dynamic energy of the Miller Canfield family doesn't permit any of us to rest on the laurels of historic success.

What is important to us? Two things--our people, and our values.

Our people have made Miller Canfield a premier law firm commanding the respect that much larger firms might claim; they have also given our firm a close-knit collegiality often reserved for small, local firms.

Our values provide the underpinnings for the way we run our business, the way we treat our clients, and the way we work with each other. Our attorneys, and non-attorney staff alike, take seriously the Guiding Tenets of the firm.

To each other, we make some old-fashioned pledges which we believe are absolutely imperative in today's business world: to be honest and fair; to treat all as valued members of our team and to mentor others and strive for their successes.

We're a diverse family at Miller Canfield. We are committed to reflecting the rich tapestry of diversity in our society and in our communities. Our recruiting and retention initiatives actively promote that objective. And we are proud that we work in a firm which holds integrity, civility and provision of excellent client service among the touchstones of professional life.
